Hoover Makes Inspection Of Spotless Battleship During Day

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD U. S. S. ARIZONA, ENROUTE TO PORTO RICO.

Mar. 21.—The semi-tropical area entered by the Battleship Arizona today on its voyage to the Caribbean made the newly born spring season pleasantly real for President Hoover and his party. Flannels appeared as if by magic, and officers changed into spotless white.

The great steel ship, plowing along at an average speed of fourteen knots, was also spick and span after generous applications of "elbow grease" by several hundred sailors, who trimmed her down for a "captain's inspection" this morning.

The chief inspector will be the president of the United States, of course, accompanied by War Secretary Patrick J. Hurley and Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Painters busy trimming up weather-beaten fire escapes downtown.

School boys and girls out with their roller skates.

New "Easter duds" displays downtown.

One man oiling a rusty-looking lawnmower.

Robins, cardinals and other birds. The 21st date on the calendar.

Understand the fine George Washington junior high school athletic field won't go to waste this spring. They plan to utilize it for an inter-class baseball league, track events and other things.

Announcement of Councilman Stanley Treser of the program considered for early spring improvement work, in the shape of streets to be paved, as given in council yesterday, is one that sounds good. Plans should be made for carrying it through at the earliest possible moment. The city is arranging for a bond issue of $100,000 to carry the city's end of the expense.

Road supervisors of Neshannock township are devoting some attention to the condition of Hazelcroft avenue extension from the city limits across to the Wilmington road. The road was ashed and is now being touched up with fine gravel. With consistent attention this thoroughfare will be one of the most traveled in the North Hill section and will soon face an era of building development that will add to the value of the township.

While the spring and summer improvement projects are being lined up, the work of opening North Mercer street through should not be neglected. The project is one requiring joint action by the city and township, and probably the county.

Considerable attention was attracted to the moving of the big tree, which is now being transplanted on the lawn at the home of R. C. Love on North Jefferson street. The tree, a full grown one, was hauled to the Love home Thursday evening, being transported on a trailer attached to the rear of a big truck.

Several apparently unrelated and irrelevant events, occurring, happening and taking place over this broad land, took on an added significance today.

For instance:

Way down south and 'way out west exhibition ball games were in progress.

Several instances of Mrs. housewife appearing at the back-door and vigorously shaking moth balls from gaily colored garments were reported.

Grim determination to correct "that darn slice" was noted in the annual pilgrimage of golfers to the attic to dig out the duffer sticks.

Unconfirmed reports that Robins had been seen in isolated sectors trickled into newspaper offices.

The family automobile was gently urged from its place of hibernation and given a vigorous shine-up.

It's useless to go further. You've already guessed that. . . . Spring arrived this morning at nine o'clock.

REPORT NO DECISION AS YET ON WESTMINSTER PRESIDENT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 21.—Dr. Charles Freeman, dean of men at Westminster college for 34 years, was appointed acting president of the institution, pending election of a new president, at the regular meeting of the board of trustees, it was learned today.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace, who designed recently as head of Westminster effective commencement day, 1931, applied for and was granted leave of absence until commencement day with the proviso that he return to the college and take charge of the commencement exercises.

The committee in charge of selection of a new president is understood to have reported that no decision had yet been made. The committee, it was said, would not again report to the board until the next regular meeting in June.

Gas Tax Evaders Are Censured By Governor Pinchot

Governor In Weekly Radio Talk Denounces "Those Who Steal From State"

Departs From Utilities Attack To Review Deplorable Condition

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 21.—During a year and a half of its existence under the previous administration, the State Department of Revenue stood idly by while "hundreds of gasoline dealers swindled the state" of millions of dollars due in gasoline taxes.

That was the charge standing forth today, made by Governor Gifford Pinchot in his weekly radio address here.

In vigorous, unmincing words, the Governor characterized the situation as a "steal," not only of money "but of good roads."

Attacks Collection

Departing from his favored subject of Utilities, the Governor in his radio address made a heated attack on methods followed in collecting the gas tax, and urged support of a bill now before the assembly for collection of the tax at the source.

The delinquent gas tax total, he declared, has grown from about $1,500,000 in 1929 to between four and five million dollars now. The Department of Revenue began collection of the tax in July, 1929.

"The only possible explanation," Gov. Pinchot declared, "is almost incredible negligence, or fraud, or both. For example, Allegheny County, between August 1, and January 31, 1931, produced a gas tax return of $350,583.80. Philadelphia County had twice as many registered vehicles, but during the same period the gas tax return in Philadelphia County was $351,063.57.

"Few forms of thievery are more to be despised than that practiced by scores of delinquent dealers. Commissioned by the state to collect."

Paul F. Kassay, Former Austro-Hungarian Officer Pleads Not Guilty

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Mar. 21.—Charged with criminal syndicalism and said to have confessed a sabotage plot to wreck the Akron, world's largest dirigible, Paul F. Kassay was to be arraigned today for preliminary hearing as authorities hinted at discovery of a nation-wide plot.

Agents of the Department of Justice who said Kassay had admitted the dirigible plot announced that they have found evidence tending to link Kassay with the crash of a crack navy bombing plane at San Diego, Calif., last September when Pilot W. Y. Pharraguerre was killed.

One of the bomber's wings mysteriously collapsed when the plane was in normal flight and investigation disclosed the ship had been tampered with.

Coast Crash Reviewed

Kassay was at one time employed at the Great Lakes Aircraft Corporation at Cleveland, the firm that built eighteen TG-1 type navy planes, one of which figured in the San Diego crash. Not Until After Presidential Election Will Income Taxes Be Boosted

EXPECT DEFICIT OF $700,000,000

Trend Of Business Activity In Next Twelve Months Will Be Important

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The country may face an increase in federal income taxes to offset anticipated treasury deficits, but not before the 1932 presidential campaign, it was learned today from Capitol Hill.

The expected deficit of $700,000,000 on July 1, the end of the current fiscal year, will be met by the issuance of short-term certificates, thus postponing the day of accounting. This will postpone a decision on increasing taxes until the end of the next fiscal year, or July 1, 1932. As that date falls in the midst of the next presidential campaign, political leaders were agreed there could be no increase in federal taxes until after the election.

Institute Economies.

The administration meanwhile will try to hold down expenditures and institute government economies during the coming fiscal year. Administration leaders in the next congress likewise will strive to reduce the ever-growing appropriations for the following fiscal year ending June 30, 1933. They are hopeful of cutting the annual cost of government far below the $5,300,000,000 figure reached in the session just closed.

The administration's hope to avoid a tax increase rests largely on the trend of business activity in the (Continued On Page Five)

Fliers Ready To Hunt Survivors

Balchen Plans Take Off From St. Johns During Day

(International News Service)

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Mar. 21.—Despite foreboding weather forecasts, Bernt Balchen and two companion fliers were determined today to take off immediately for the icefields of Northern Newfoundland in a final attempt to locate the 28 men missing after Sunday's destruction of the sealing ship Viking.

The American air trio, which included Randle Enslow and Meriam C. Coopes, arrived here yesterday after a speedy flight from Boston. They set out on their rescue mission at the request of Dr. L. F. Frissell, father of Varick Frissell, motion picture producer of New York who was aboard the Viking at the time of the explosion and has not been seen since. Another American who remained unaccounted for was A. G. Penrod, cameraman.

The aviators will cruise over Horse Island and White Bay, scene of the tragedy in which some twenty men were killed outright, and scan the ice packs for any possible survivors. They will carry a load of food and medical supplies to drop to inhabitants of the island, who sheltered 127 men after their escape from the shattered ship and the hazardous ice floes.

Will Rogers Says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 21.—Every state in the Union gambles as much as Nevada does, but they were smart enough to pass a law and get some tax money out of it.

If Wall Street paid a tax on every "game" they run, we would get enough revenue to run the government on.

Another thing, we don't seem to be able to even check crime, so why not legalize it and put a heavy tax on it, make the tax for robbery so high that a bandit couldn't afford to rob anyone unless he knew they had a lot of dough.

We have taxed other industries out of business. It might work here.

Your's,
Will Rogers.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS GIVEN JAIL TERMS

Violators Of Prohibition Laws Given Both Jail And Workhouse Sentences

Andy Marshall, convicted of highway robbery, and assault and battery, was sentenced to one year in the Allegheny county workhouse on the latter charge and two and one-half years to the Western penitentiary on the former, at sentence court held by Judges Hildebrand and Chambers this morning. The penitentiary sentence is to begin at the expiration of the workhouse term.

Marshall, with Joe Morocco, took Samuel Sankovich of Bessemer out in an automobile and robbed him of $400. Morocco pleaded guilty to the charge, but Marshall stood trial and was convicted. Evidence showed that he had been in trouble before. Leniency was asked for him on the grounds that he has a wife and four children to support.

Morocco, when called for sentence, said that he had been thinking it over and was sorry. He asked for leniency of the courts, as he is only 20 years old and had never been in trouble before. He was sentenced to Huntington Reform School. The as- (Continued On Page Seventeen)

Foresee Stir In Legislature

Important Measures To Be Up For Action During Coming Week

POLICE GUARD BILL TO HEAD DISCUSSION

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)
Legislation that will undoubtedly create something of a stir in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania will make its appearance next week. Among such bills will be the Teachers Tenure act which is expected to be presented. This is a piece of legislation that has been urged for many years by the teaching profession and in reality provides a civil service bureau for teachers.

In the House, the Musmanno Property Guard Act will be on the third reading on Tuesday morning. This act provides for property guards instead of industrial police for coal mines, electric lines, industries, express companies and the like. The act permits the property guards to arrest violators inside the lines of the property protected, but does not permit arrests outside that line. It provides other qualifications for service as a property guard such as citizenship of the United States, residence in the state, and endorsements by reputable citizens. Many of these are now required under the present act passed in 1929.

The Sunday Local Option bill also presented by Musmanno will come before the Committee on Law and Order on next Tuesday for final disposition. If the bill is postponed indefinitely it means that it is dead. There is an effort being made now to have the bill reported out of committee with a negative endorsement which would mean that the House would then have to vote as to whether or not it would be placed on the calendar. The same thing could be accomplished by having the House vote to discharge the committee, a task which requires a majority vote of 105.

taching a weighted chain to the body. Veteran detectives, aghast at the gruesome details of the crime, said Wiczorkowski gave the Sobuski girl's repeated assertions that he was the father of her unborn child as the motive for the killing.

The reported confession climaxed a rapid, and brilliant, police investigation of the case. Mary's body, bloated and decomposed, was found Wednesday. It was not identified until late Thursday night.

Examination of the body at first led to the belief that the girl was the victim of an unskilled, crudely performed illegal operation.

You're the JUDGE

The Strunk Transfer Company, in the business of transferring baggage and passengers, held a contract with the Savoy hotel by which the Strunk company had the exclusive right to transfer baggage and guests to and from the hotel. For this privilege the Strunk company had agreed to pay the Savoy hotel a certain flat amount for the year, in specified instalments. In addition the transfer company agreed to provide service that would be prompt, courteous, and at reasonable rates.

But business did not go so well, and pretty soon a creditors' petition for bankruptcy was filed against the transfer company and the company was judged as bankrupt. But now the Savoy hotel filed suit against the trustee in bankruptcy for the failure of the company to continue with its contract with the hotel.

CAMBRIDGE CREW DEFEATS OXFORD IN ANNUAL RACE

of tying the total score, for it gave Cambridge forty-two victories to Oxford's forty.

With approximately 1,000,000 spectators lining the banks of the Thames, hanging over bridges, in special trains, punts and powerboats along the river's edge, Cambridge shot into the lead at the getway and never lost its advantage.

Cambridge's time for the gruelling four and one-half mile test of brain and brawn was officially recorded as 19 minutes and 26 seconds. The Cambridge crew was credited officially with a two and one-half length victory.

Cambridge Strong.

Oxford, it seemed, was beaten from the outset. Cambridge gained a lead of half a length within the first few seconds, and gradually increased this distance from the one-mile mark. A hopeless spurt by the Oxford oarsmen brought their shell level with Cambridge at the one-mile mark, but that was as close as Oxford ever came to winning.

At one and two-thirds miles, Cambridge led by a length, and in the next third of a mile gained another full length over the dark blue crew. It was then all over but the shouting.

As the shells shot past the two and one-half mile mark and under Barnes bridge, the spectators could see the Cambridge eight drawing ahead inch by inch. The light blue faction in the densely-packed mob roared itself hoarse, and while the Oxford fans shouted words of encouragement, the finish, with Cambridge a full two-and-one-half boat-lengths ahead, was a complete black-out for the Oxford crew.

EARTH STILL HAS A LONG TIME TO GO

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

While the death of our world is regarded as the ultimate goal of its history, yet that goal is a long way off. The human mind cannot comprehend the vastness of that stretch of time that will carry the earth to its final doom, for its whole security is wrapped up in the security and endurance of the sun.

The sun goes on forever supplying untold heat and radiation, the world might live on forever unless disrupted by the intrusion of some stray star. However, the reduction of the sun to a state of enfeebled light and heat is so slow that the annihilation of 1 per cent of its mass requires 150 billion years.

Investigators estimate, he said that approximately two million dollars of gas tax monies is being stolen yearly.

The Governor praised Dr. Clyde King, present Secretary of Revenue, for checking up on delinquent taxes and reorganizing the gas tax bureau. Reorganization which will "insure efficient collection" is about completed, the Governor said with A. P. Delahunt, of Pittsburgh, in charge of the work.

Controversy Opens
On Birth Control

"Guarded" Approval Of Birth Control Subject Of Much Controversy

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—The "guarded" approval of birth control given by the committee on marriage and the home of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, embracing membership of more than 22,000,000 persons, today was the subject of much controversy among laymen and clergy alike.

The committee's majority report, favoring "some form of effective control of the size of the family and the spacing of children," was signed by 22 of its 28 members, including Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., George Z. Wickersham and Mrs. John Ferguson, president of the National Council of Federated Church Women.

Of the remaining six members of the committee three signed a minority report advocating control through abstinence, among them the Rev. Dr. Howard Chandler Robbins, chairman of the committee and for nine years dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The three other members would take no stand between the minority and majority positions.

President Hoover, contrary to his usual procedure, did not follow any definite schedule of exercise, declaring that this cruise would be strictly vocational with "no rules." He spent most of his time resting and chatting with officers.

Another attempt will be made sometime during the day to pick up the voice of Herbert Hoover, Jr., who has a home-made set at Asheville, N. C. Amateurs interfered in yesterday's experiment carried out by ship's officers, who reported hearing the voice of the president's son clearly once the distance between Asheville and the Arizona increased.

"Well, it's a home-made set," President Hoover commented. "Don't have too much faith in it."

Although reiterating that the present trip was primarily a vacation cruise, the chief executive said he would deliver a brief address of no political import at San Juan Monday, responding in the main to the island's greeting. He will speak informally from the steps of the new capital, the first American president to address an audience in Porto Rico since President Roosevelt's speech some 25 years ago.

Mrs. Duff Scott, East Park avenue is confined to her home by illness.

Liberals to Withdraw

The agreement is expected to result in definite withdrawal of between 10 and 15 liberals from the party. This faction, headed by Sir John Simon, is in open rebellion against Lloyd George's continued support of alleged "socialistic" schemes fostered by the liberal government.

Their withdrawal, however, will leave a sufficient number pledged to follow Lloyd George to insure the MacDonald government's continuance in office.

Lloyd George has been holding the balance of power in the House of Commons since the last election. By virtue of the 51 liberal votes he was in a position to throw the MacDonald government out of office at any time by the simple expedient of voting with the conservatives.

Anxious for Support
He will still have a sufficient total of liberal followers to continue his pivotal role in Commons. MacDonald is admittedly anxious to retain his support, at least until the tangled Indian problem and other international undertakings launched under his leadership have been carried through to successful conclusion.

The government is expected immediately to proceed with the electoral reform bill, which provides for the "second" vote system and thus will insure the liberal greater representation in the House in future elections.

SPRING IS HERE

BACK for a six months' stay in the northern hemisphere, the sun escorts spring into these latitudes today. The period of the vernal equinox is always welcome and always wonderful. The rescue of the earth from the death-like grasp of winter each year is an old, old story, but an ever new one in its beauty. The other seasons have each their particular loveliness, but spring has youth, freshness, a charm which its elder sisters of the year cannot rival.

Even within the stone-bound streets of the city the hardy, rowdy sparrows become turbulent with warmer blood and their matings on the house-tops are done to lyrical shrieks. The parks simulate the annual resurrection of the broader countryside and reveal to city dwellers some of the beauty with which the fields beyond the city gates are decking themselves. The adventurous robin flaunts his plumage in the squares before the admiring eyes of urbanites, and man responds to the season and with quicker step and higher heart beat, goes about his daily round of duty. The winter is dead, spring comes and there is rejoicing among all creatures.

Blustery winds may come and go, but the sign in the heavens is a sure herald of spring.

IMMIGRATION TOUCHES ZERO

Due to economic conditions, which have temporarily blurred the picture of America as the land of opportunity, and many deportations of aliens illegally here, immigrant arrivals are now below the departures. This would have been looked down upon as a very unfavorable condition a few decades ago when this empire was still in the midst of one of its major periods of building and not even the surplus population of other countries were able to meet the demand here for labor and colonists. Today, with more labor than it can feed and house, the country is just as eager to send aliens home as it was once eager in its invitations to them.

Departing aliens number 21,000 a month, of which 1500 are deported. Many of the departing ones hope to find work at home, others are going home with enough wealth to spend their remaining days amidst native scenes and still others go expecting to return some day.

It is doubtful if the United States will ever again present the same visions of opportunity and easy wealth to the impoverished peasants and laborers of Europe as it once did. That stage of the country's development has been passed, leaving to other undeveloped lands to hold out the hand of promise to this eternal excess baggage in flesh and blood.

SALARY EARNER'S CAPITAL

Every now and then clubs, associations, individuals, newspapers and politicians renew the agitation for a further reduction in the federal income tax on earned as compared with other classes of income. And until the crash came to place the government in serious financial straits the executive and legislative branches were not inattentive to these pleas.

It is contended that incomes from capital can bear heavy taxes because the capital itself remains intact. But the doctor's skill, the lawyer's intellect, the author's inspiration and the salaried business executive's energy are not fixed, indestructible and capable of producing an annual income forever. Capital is permitted to replenish its loss and set up a suction against taxation by means of depreciation, obsolescence and depletion. But the human vitality, health and strength lost in earning salary and fees cannot be deducted in any way. Indeed, income so earned is often the sole capital to the extent that it is margin above expenses.

There is real injustice here, but as a practical, technical matter it is extremely difficult to remedy. For one thing, it is difficult to draw a line in the collection of income taxes between those who actually suffer and those who will never miss the money. The problem does not concern that large number who pay no income taxes nor those whose incomes are more than they will ever be able to spend. But between these two there are men and women who see in this tax a deduction from the savings upon which they must depend in old age or sickness.

THE ONLY ANSWER

No mob listens to reason. It would cease to be a mob if it did. So long as it is a mob it can be handled only with its own weapon, force. Temporizing is always futile and often tragic. A mob of convicts is even more deadly than other groups whose rage has ousted reason. The primitive fury of a caged animal scenting freedom dominates them.

Stern measures put in force at Joliet are the only possible answer to such defiance of discipline as has resulted in the series of outbreaks in the two Illinois state prisons. The warden and his superiors at Springfield would be derelict in their duty if they showed other than the mailed fist to mutineers. The slogan of "More guns and less talk" is timely.

A few days ago the convicts were in a fair way of obtaining redress for what may be genuine grievances. A legislative committee was investigating charges of maladministration, cruelty and torture in the old prison, scene of Saturday's outbreak.

Then the convicts yielded to the counsels of violence. They rioted, attacked guards, destroyed property and compelled their guardians to meet force with force. As a result a large section of the new prison, one of the best designed penal institutions in America, is in ruins, several convicts have been shot and all will have a much more uncomfortable time than if they had kept their senses. "Until order is restored the prisoners will be locked in their cells and there will be no more effort to consider any grievances the prisoners may have," says the welfare department.

When order has been restored, by more guns if necessary, and the mob reassumes reason and ceases to be a mob, it will be the duty of Illinois to seek causes and correct whatever evils may have incited this outbreak.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:12. Sun rises tomorrow 6:02.

Virtue is its own reward, and frequently its own press agent.

Shopping becomes ever more simple for a woman. Soon she won't have anything to match except her complexion.

VERY CHARACTERISTIC
"Your son in college ordered these photographs from me."
"Ah, yes. Well, they certainly look very like him, very like him. Has he paid for them yet?"
"No, sir, he has not."
"Hum-m-m. Still more like him."

New Castle citizens who have extreme difficulty in spelling present day English, as she should be spelled, should have lived in the days when they had such words as "cyclopee, ebullition and detestude." One would think he was reading a letter in some strange language if he would get hold of some of the missives that come to the newspaper offices.

A man "who would give you the shirt off his back" usually has only one shirt.

It is not possession that makes people strong, but action to gain possession.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
She is a very modern young woman. She runs an office and smokes cigarettes with her fingers properly limp and is never astonished at anything. Well, hardly ever astonished at anything. But the other day a friend of hers from out of town moved into the city and looked her up. They said they simply must see more of each other. The girl from out of town had an idea.

"I'll tell you what you do," she said. "Come down and see me and bring your sewing."

Mr. Jones—Motoring is surely a great thing. I used to be fat and sluggish before the motoring craze but now I'm spry and energetic.

Mr. Roberts—I didn't know you motored.

Mr. Jones—I don't. I dodge.

According to reports, the Blue hearings in Harrisburg the other day were anything but dignified, being interrupted by cheering and calls. This only goes to show the respect some people have for the sacredness of law making.

POOR ADVERTISING
"Humph! Your papa is a shoe-maker, and you haven't a single pair of shoes."
"Humph, yourself. Your papa is a dentist and your little sister's only got four teeth."

This juvenile crime wave can unquestionably be traced to the passing of the woodshed and the advent of safety razors.

As long as a woman can appeal to the chivalrous side of her husband's nature, she will continue to be the boss of the family.

FROM A MAN'S SCRAPBOOK
When we meet a person we are said to resemble, we usually swear. Opportunities are like fish—the big ones often get away.

No man ever lives up to the reputation he wants people to think he has.

"Fancy the world a hill, lad. Look where the millions stop. You'll find the crowds at the base. But there's always room at the top."

When a two-year-old debtor finally pays his bill the money seems like "pure velvet."

Several large cities are trying to reduce crime by raising the price of black-jacks and sang bags.

THEY'RE EVEN!
"So you're an actor, eh?" muttered the stout man. "Well, I'm a banker. And, would you believe it, I haven't been near a theatre in ten years."

"That's nothing, at all," responded the other breezily. "I haven't been near a bank in twenty years."

THE BOOT, TOO!
"Why did you leave your job at Levy and Sons?"
"They did something I didn't like."
"What was that?"
"They gave me the sack."

The reason executive ability is scarce in the ranks is that it doesn't stay there long.

Some men are so very much at home anywhere that they make other people feel like company.

RACE SUICIDE
He got tight and drove his car much to his friend's sorrow. Tried to race an airplane. The funeral is tomorrow.

Old Dobbin was superior in another detail, too. He could stand hitherto for hours without accumulating a summons.

Scientists have developed a beverage which makes the drinker see yellow. The bootleggers have had beverages which caused the imbecile to see all the colors of the rainbow, and then stop seeing altogether.

TRY IT!
When living is losing its flavor to you
When worry is making you old.
Get out in the open and play like a child.

You can overcome it—if you will.—With apologies to Douglas Malrough.

Mother—Bobby, why are you so unkind to nurse. Don't you like her?
Bobby—No, I hate her. I'd like to pinch her cheeks like daddy does.

WELL, PERHAPS

You can take a correspondence course to develop will power, or you can dress without pulling the window down.

HAPPY THOUGHT!
Doctor: "When you take your wife's temperature, she must place the thermometer under her tongue and keep her mouth closed for two minutes."
Mr. Jones: "Haven't you one that takes half an hour?"

New slang expressions are very perishable. They only last two or three months at the best.

One day last week two married women were discussing an acquaintance who makes an uncommon effort to please her husband and minister to his needs. "I wouldn't do it for any man," said one of them, and the other heartily agreed. I think it probable that the most wives feel resentful when they observe in one of their sisters a degree of loving kindness that borders on humility. But there are two sides to the question, as usual. The wife who was criticised could say to the others: "If I give my husband more than most women do, I get more in return. I spend my days trying to please him but he spends his trying to please me. You wouldn't do as I do, but you lack a lot of getting as much as I do of your married life." The forever clamoring for her rights and upholding the dignity of her feminine kind, may have the satisfaction of knowing that no man bosses her or treats her as an inferior, but that isn't the ideal of matrimony. If she feels that way about it, she should stay single. Marriage isn't a battle for sex rights—it is a comradeship in which each has no higher ambition than to serve the other. If it isn't that, it is nothing.

What you don't know costs you a lot of money.

WILL BE NEWS TO THEM
"Man is slowly winning his war on the insect world," says a noted chemist. Let's post this news where the boll weevils, corn borers, potato bugs and mosquitoes can see it.

We imagine the first time a girl wore skirts to her knees she felt as conspicuous as the man with his first fancy hatband.

JUSTICE
"So you had an uncle who died refusing to desert his post at the radio? Was he drowned?"
"No—someone threw a brick through the window!"

In real life the great villains seem to go scot free.

Social Accomplishments—Mexico is certainly a progressive country. A man can be engaged in the morning, married in the afternoon and be paying alimony before dark.

OH! MY, YES
"Oh, I really don't mind her, my dear. But you know very well she is superficial to the core."
"Indeed? Still too often, I think, superficiality is only skin deep."

You're Right—A few girls may be hungry for love, but most of them want something more substantial.

Excuse Me Please—Some women show their age, but not very many of them ever tell it.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES
The Irish convict had missed an article of his personal kit. He demanded an interview with the warden. The interview was conceded.

"Sore," began the convict, loudly, "there's a thief in this prison."

When certain people find steady work you know business is booming.

Vital Statistics—Divorces are for rich people. Poor children have to be satisfied with one father and mother.

Auto-Suggestion—A road hog only demands half the highway, but he usually wants your half.

FAMILY TRAIT
"Have your parents given their consent to our union?"
"Not yet. Father hasn't expressed his opinion yet, and mother is waiting to contradict him."

Social Errors—Eating Devil's food and angel cake at the same meal.

Null and Void—The girl who went out to the zoo and wanted to borrow one of the garter snakes because her stocking was coming down.

EH?
A motorist, driving rapidly into a station yard, nearly hit an old man who shouted: "Why don't you sound your horn?"

The driver replied: "Why don't you sound your aitches?"

To Whom It May Concern—Don't worry if the wolf is hanging around your door. That's better than a college boy in a raccoon coat.

OUR OWN VAUDEVILLE
She: I don't like the clothes you're wearing.
He: I'm sorry, but they're the best my roommate can afford.

"The making of dictionaries is expensive, says an ad. Just think, for instance, how much money and blood has been spent to get a universal definition of 'morality.'"

Funny man. He feels superior and yet a fly one day old has sense enough to dodge trouble.

Do You Remember When—
Hay Rides Were Fun
Only One Boy in School Smoked a Pipe

By MARSHALL MASLIN

You called at the house to take your girl to a party, her mother warned you to have her home by half-past eleven or twelve at the latest. And she meant it, too. . . . In those days mothers worried if their children stayed out later than midnight and imagined all sorts of terrible things were happening.

Hay rides were fun. You hired a farmer's wagon and his two horses and he did the driving. He filled his wagon with straw and 20 boys and girls piled in, giggling and shouting—at first. After a while a boy put one arm around his girl, and held her hand, too. . . . He didn't kiss her then. That came later, after the hay ride, at the party, when they played Wink and Post-office and forfeits. Kissing was quite a public affair in those days.

There were chaperones then. The "rag" was considered almost indecent. They danced the Paul Jones and the Virginia Reel. The most glamorous fellow in town was the stranger who played the piano in the theater where they sang the illustrated songs between motion pictures of Alkali Ike and John Bunney and Maurice Costello.

When boys dressed up, they wore blue serge suits, high stiff collars with narrow ties, patent leather shoes and "hot socks." Sometimes the girls wore ribbons in their hair.

Saturday was a big night, when the band played in the plaza and the stores stayed open until 9 o'clock and you walked round and round the park, the girls arm in arm, the boys in a bunch in opposite directions—saying silly things to each other when met.

Only one boy in school smoked a pipe. Only one boy had an automobile—it was his father's but he was allowed to use it.

The big week in the year was when the Stock Company came to town and played "The Octopus" and "The Chorus Lady." Actresses were supposed to be wicked in those days. . . . I remember the vaudeville show that had the act where a lady in a long dress came out with sticks to which yards and yards of mosquito netting were attached and waved them around while colored lights played on her. It was too beautiful for words. . . . And the next most exciting week was when the evangelists came to town and made us all feel very wicked, or very pure.

Young people in those days had just as much fun as they have today. When I'm older I'll think they had MORE fun then. But now I think they had just as much.

WORRYING OVER TRIVIAL THINGS?

Throughout your life, inconsequential things have been your worry.

No great trouble has come to you. But the petty annoyances have caused many hours of anxiety. Has it ever done you any good to waste your health and happiness thus?

Keeping yourself in a general turmoil because of vexations that really do not amount to anything has robbed you of your natural right to enjoyment.

Little disturbances at home, puzzling conditions in the business world, have had too great an effect on you.

Keeps you fly into rages that are futile and of no matters of so little importance that they should not in any way disturb you.

Your own mistakes and the indiscretions of others arouse you to the point where you can't take advice and you can't give it coherently.

Thus you cannot help others and do not fortify yourself.

Most of the things that people worry about should be banished as too insignificant in the big plan of life to be harbored.

Small people worry about small matters and if you realized that perhaps you would awaken to the fact that you are really too big for it.

While you are worrying about small matters, important ones are likely to occur.

Country Offers Estimates Of Progressive Conference

Friendly And Unfriendly Comments Are Made, With Suggestions As To Effect On Possible Third Party Or On Democratic Party

Numerous conclusions have been drawn by the country as to the results of the recent conference of members of congress who are interested in progressive policies. Most favorable among the appraisals are those which emphasize the thought that the conference offered a forum for general discussion of projects which may or may not be satisfactory to the country. Another phase deals with the effect on party organizations, with special reference to the Democratic party or to a third party, although leaders of the conference denied any intention to leave the old parties.

Two major effects, which are emphasized by the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL are "the focusing of attention on the conference itself and on the committee reports to be made next December which are calculated to bring progressivism out of the clouds and advise the public as to its concrete meaning." That paper holds that "adoption of a definite program or platform understood widely by the people would be a long step towards ultimate formation of a progressive party."

"The Progressive leaders," says the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, "appear to be feeling their way" toward a hard and fast offensive and defensive alliance between their members in both the old parties. That, we gather, will be their major effort between now and next year's election. That they are by no means confident of its success is indicated by their cautious approach to the formulation of "concrete" legislative proposals, by their conference's avoidance of such controversial issues as, for familiar example, prohibition, and by their unwillingness to break boldly away from the old parties and set up one of their own.

"The influence of the conference," in the opinion of the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "will be shown most impressively by the selection of presidential candidates of the major parties. The Insurgents have indicated a preference for Governor Roosevelt over other Democratic candidates. In this they may have over-played their hand. Mr. Roosevelt is carrying a deal of ill-sorted baggage at an early stage in the campaign. Insurgent approval adds much to his load. With the wet and dries, the southern Democrats, Raakob Democrats and Tammany Hall he has enough diverse elements to juggle with. If the Insurgents have done nothing else they have focused attention on the need of a liberal and conservative party."

"Both the Republican and Democratic parties have reason for brow-wrinkling," thinks the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, "when any such meetings are being held. The danger of a third party is not less but greater now than in 1912, when Roosevelt's leadership of the Progressives cost the Republicans an election. The political opinion to which the Progressives appealed at that time has persisted and has grown tremendously."

"Where can the progressives make their power felt?" asks the KANSAS CITY STAR, with the answer to the query: "In congress? Maybe so. But there are the president and his veto power to be reckoned with. So let it go. Yet there ought to be, and is, a place for the progressives. And it is primarily in congress; not because they can or should get up demands that may gain a fair hearing. They can be stimulus to the party regulars, who may lean as far in one direction as the progressives in another. But somewhere, and to the extent the progressives provoke and extend the genuine issues, the balance may be struck, extreme in either direction avoided and legislation of a sound and essential nature may be the result."

"It is not remonstrance, least of all fear, that should be provoked by the utterances and resolves of the Progressives," believes the NEW YORK TIMES. "Rather it is a kindly word of warning. They cannot do what they see set out to perform. They will soon be placing themselves in the position, which they abhor, of making promises to the people which they are unable to keep. Yet their enthusiasm, their ardor for improvement, are too valuable an asset in our public life to be inconsistently brushed aside."

Some of the ways in which to achieve a part of their aims, let us hope that none of them will become so discouraged as not to know continually the joy of glorious fighting even when they lose."

"A temporary forum for the dramatic discussion of things that, for the most part, may well be discussed for genuine issues," the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL, recognizing that "periods of vacillations have come and gone before" and that "possibly the real significance of this progressive drum beating is that this particular period of vagueness is beginning to approach its end." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS offers the judgment: "The gathering of a group of assorted radicals would be of no great importance were it not for two things. In the first place, such a meeting with its accompanying publicity aggravates the business depression because it creates the impression in some minds that the country is afflicted with so many ills that the situation is well nigh hopeless. And in the second place it so happens that those who made up the conference will occupy positions of great influence in the next congress."

Feeling that "it is too bad that anyone ever called a conference of progressives," the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD voices the judgment: "Your true progressive will not compromise. He is one apostle of the

Bankers Hear Harvard Man

Mercer and Lawrence County Bankers Meet At Westminster

DEPRESSION WAVES RUN IN CYCLES

Meeting jointly to hear one of the nation's foremost economists, Dr. Anton DeHaas of Harvard University discuss the country's present day ills and remedies, nearly 60 Lawrence and Mercer county bankers, together with a special group of Westminster College faculty members, assembled last night in New Wilmington.

An opening dinner in the Methodist Episcopal church and a brief business meeting of two bankers' associations preceded the lecture in the Westminster chapel. Presiding was Joel S. McKee, president of the Lawrence county organization. President C. T. Stockton, of Sharon, Mercer county Bankers association president, was one of the speakers.

Dr. Allen B. Davis, head of the Westminster vocal music department and Prof. Elton Murray, also of the college's music department, provided special vocal and violin numbers during the dinner hour.

Heartening Lecture
"Isolation Or World Cooperation" was Dr. DeHaas' theme a timely and most appropriate one for an assembly of bankers. Over production and over efficiency were dwelt upon at length by the speaker, the trend of thought swaying towards the depression periods that often result from such. His address was more encouraging, the final emphasizing that depression eras always have and always will run in cycles, unless different preparations are taken to ward them off.

New Castle bankers and local guests who participated in the evening affair were as follows:
President McKee, L. A. Weinschenk, Vane Johns, L. M. Buchanan, R. M. George, W. A. Pond, E. L. Thompson, Norman H. Buckingham, Fred C. Duff, C. C. Headland, J. C. Miner, John J. Maher, William McCombs, P. A. Schultz, O. P. Brown, Adolph Green, H. B. Sadler, John C. Moore, George A. Carpenter, A. W. Tindal and John D. Kennedy County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch and Charles S. Passavant, Pittsburgh bond salesman, were included among the special guests.

Mercer county sent several representatives of its association.

Stage Regulation Proposal Approved

Conference Committee On Theatres Sponsors Own Censorship Proposal

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—The plan for regulation of the stage sponsored by the conference committee on theatres on censorship today carried approval of both District Attorney Crain and Police Commissioner Mulrooney.

Both officials expressed their approval of the theatre board project and asked that further details of the plan of self-censorship of the stage be submitted to them.

It was announced that the conference board seeks impeding of 200 citizens from civic organizations. Under the plan all complaints against productions would go to the conference board, which would appoint four jurors from the citizens' panel and three from the conference board. If recommendations were then made, the matter would be turned over to police and the prosecutor.

Central Christian Program Friday

"Citizenship" Program Given At Central Christian Church Friday Evening

The Central Christian church members enjoyed a program, the theme of which was "Citizenship," given Friday evening in their church social rooms, having in attendance a record crowd.

The following features were given during the early hours: "America," the entire group; prayer, Lawson Downs; duet, Mrs. Griff Lewis and Mrs. Weaver; talk, "The Growth of American Citizenship and Past Americans Who Have Contributed To It," Margaret Comendow; talk, "Present Americans Who Are Aiding in Our Citizenship," by Mary Shenger, who stressed the work accomplished by the honorable Ruth Bryan Owen; duet, Mrs. William McKenzie and A. W. Bauman, Jr.; talk, "The Part Religion Has in Our Citizenship," R. D. Withers; solo, David Lewis; prayer, Rev. Porter.

Following this program, the guests retired to the dining room where a birthday party was held. This was elaborated upon in a novel manner, 12 tables being arranged in beautiful appointments, each suggesting a month of the year. With A. W. Bauman acting as toastmaster, the crowd made merry with the presentation of an original skit, given by those at their particular table, and in keeping with the occasion, after partaking of a very delicious lunch served by committees from the Loyall Ladies class, the Dorcas class and the O. B. A. class, a nice birthday offering was taken up.

PLANNED INCREASE FOR INCOME TAXES WILL BE DELAYED

next 12 months. A sharp recovery in business would bring greater revenue to the government and might even obviate the necessity for increasing taxes at all.

Depends On Situation.
If there is a marked increase in federal revenues in the next fiscal year, the president might be able to enter his campaign for re-election with a pledge not to increase taxes. He would be armed with a mighty political weapon if this eventuated and the administration's entire efforts in the next congress will be devoted toward that goal.

Senator Jones (R) of Washington chairman of the senate appropriations committee, announced he expected a reduction in appropriations for the fiscal year closing June 30, 1933. He said the congress probably would appropriate $500,000,000 less than at the last session. He forecast savings in appropriations for the federal farm board, for special public works and for meeting the unemployment emergency, which it is expected will be ended within a year. On the other hand, he saw an increase in appropriations for world war veterans but not enough to prevent the $500,000,000 reduction in total appropriations.

Depends On Business.
All the administration's hopes rest on the recovery of business activity. If the depression should continue, it was conceded, with the farm board, emergency public works and unemployment relief requiring huge sums, a tax increase would be unavoidable in 1933. For one thing, the government would have to take steps to meet the $700,000,000 deficit for this fiscal year and whatever deficit was acquired in the ensuing fiscal year.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, voiced the general sentiment on Capitol Hill by saying:

"An increase in taxes may be necessary but not before the next election. I think both parties will agree to that."

Church Is Friend Of All

The critics of Jesus spoke truly when they called Him, a Friend of publicans and sinners. We are indebted to them for emphasizing that His friendship did not stop with the decent and respectable but reached to those who were at the bottom of the social scale.

The Christian Church seeks to express the spirit of its King and Head. Like the Master it does not confine its friendliness to the favored classes. It goes with its healing ministry and its work of Christian education to the physically, intellectually and morally unprivileged of non Christian lands. In Christian lands it maintains hospitals, colleges and Sunday Schools whose doors are open to all classes. No institution on earth today shows itself a friend of the unfortunate and less favored to such an extent as the Church of Christ.

A friendliness which reaches out to the uttermost limits is sure to have a wholesome influence upon those within its immediate range. One cannot avoid feeling the warmth of the rays of the noon day sun when they are beating upon him directly, nor can one who is in effective relationship with the church escape the heartening influence of the friendliness which is an essential part of its life. Complaints of the coldness and indifference of the church come from camp followers who stand on the outskirts and refuse to integrate themselves with its life.

To integrate the representative Church seeks to show itself the friend of all classes and conditions of humanity. It offers all who will enter its fellowship an opportunity for a real venture in friendship.

Pastor 1st U. P. Church.

City Mission Reports Work

Splendid Work Being Carried On Among Needy By Workers At Rescue Mission

The City Rescue Mission is working to its utmost capacity in every department to assist in taking care of the needy, both those residing in the city and those who just stop over in the city for a bite to eat and a place to sleep.

The mission is doing a remarkable piece of work in its three-fold effort to care for the needy, firstly, by supplying nourishing food and a shelter; secondly, by providing wearing apparel and household necessities and thirdly, endeavoring in its mission of love, to bring every soul that enters the doors of the mission house closer to the Saviour.

Never has the mission been called upon to render as much aid as it has the past winter and never has it functioned so loyally and satisfactorily to the needs of mankind. The people of New Castle can rest assured that no needy person is turned away from the mission doors without their needs supplied and the dollars so generously given by the people of New Castle are stretched to their utmost to obtain maximum relief.

Owing to the unemployment situation, the mayor's relief committee has been doing a splendid piece of work, and to this cause the mission has been lending a helping hand; day after day delivering soup so graciously furnished by the Jameson Memorial hospital.

During the past month the mission has taken care of the requirements of 5 families whose homes were destroyed by fire; furnishing clothing, and house hold necessities.

NOTHING IN LIFE

Is more deceptive than appearances.
Is more certain than the ultimate victory of right.
Is more uncertain than the friends that money can buy.
Is more futile than trying to conceal the truth.
Is more foolish than race or color prejudice.
Is more dangerous than a hal truth in the hands of malice.
Is more hopeless than the man who is making no effort on his own behalf.

Services Attract Large Congregations

Ensign V. Thomsen Gives Interesting Talk At Salvation Army Hall

Services being held at the Salvation Army hall, 34 West Washington street, continue to attract large congregations and are proving not only of interest to many, but also most helpful.

The service this evening will be another Free and Easy Service, in which many will have the opportunity of participating. The services are under the leadership of Ensign V. Thomsen.

At the Thursday evening service, the Ensign gave a talk on the old hymn "Rescue The Perishing." Upon questioning the audience about sea traveling, it developed that a considerable number had been seafaring people. One man having crossed the ocean ten times and visited a large number of foreign countries. At the close of the service, one man came forward embracing the faith.

Ensign Thomsen who was born in the little country of Denmark where a great number of people make their living by fishing and ocean travel, illustrated the methods of rescue in times of storms.

Dr. L. W. Stryker At St. Andrew's

Dr. Leonard W. Stryker, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of Youngstown, will be the speaker in the congregation of St. Andrew's and the people of New Castle through his frequent occupation of the pulpits here and it is with pleasure the congregation looks forward to hearing him.

Inasmuch as Rev. Klose of the Diocese of Iowa is unable to be present for the Sunday morning service, there will only be Sunday school at 10 a. m. and the evening prayer and sermon at 7:30 p. m.

SALVATION ARMY MEETING SUNDAY

Sunday evening at the Salvation Army Hall, 34 West Washington street, there will be an enrollment service. New members will be enrolled for the fourth time since the New Year at this time and with appropriate ceremonies. Ensign V. Thomsen, the officer in charge will bring the message of the evening. This evening, C. A. Moon will be the speaker.

Sunday Subjects Awaken Interest

Rev. Margaret Joshua, the evangelistic speaker in Croton Avenue Methodist church, has announced that "An Immortal Act" will be the subject of her 11 o'clock sermon Sunday and "Excuses" will be the theme of her evening discourse. YOU WILL MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE CHURCH

TRADITIONALLY, the church is the social, as well as the religious center of the community. The church does not hold itself aloof from the very real and valuable joys of friendship . . . but rather encourages all things, small or large, that make for humankindness. Among these are the smiles and nods and handclaps exchanged by the Sunday churchgoers.

Rossiter Trial Will End Today In Erie Court

Jury Will Get Rossiter Case
Sometime Today For Deliberation

DEFENDANT MAKES COMPLETE DENIAL

(International News Service)
ERIE Pa., Mar. 21.—The fate of Attorney Samuel Y. Rossiter, son of Judge U. P. Rossiter of Erie county court, first defendant to be tried in the "prisoner substitution" case was expected to be placed in the hands of the federal court jury here sometime today.

On the stand in his own behalf and again on cross-examination, Rossiter made a general denial of all testimony given by Joseph Patrone, who, under the alias of "Joseph Jarvis," was alleged to have substituted in a prison sentence for Stanley Wells, a Canadian rum-runner. Patrone, who already had pleaded guilty to the offense in federal court here, was the government's chief witness.

Defense Closes
The defense closed its case by marshaling more than a score of character witnesses who testified as to the good reputation the Erie attorney bore. The Rt. Rev. John Mark Gannon, bishop of the Erie Catholic diocese, Congressman Milton W. Shreve, Mayor Joseph Williams, State Senator Miles B. Kitts, and 21 other Erie residents took the stand in Rossiter's behalf.

Rossiter admitted under a severe cross-examination at the hands of Assistant United States Attorney James I. Marsh that he left federal court in Pittsburgh with attorneys Max Schoonmaker and Leonard Krieger, the latter two representing "Jarvis" and Lester Beals, arrested with Wells when his speedboat was overtaken by coast guards on Lake Erie.

Denies Knowledge Of Check
The defendant admitted further he had stopped for a few minutes with the two men in front of a bank where the government charges a check for $4,000, held as bail for "Jarvis," was cashed by the two attorneys. Rossiter denied all knowledge of the check.

In testifying about the alleged "victory" party which Patrone said was held at a Pittsburgh hotel following his sentence in court, the Erie attorney admitted he became suspicious of the prisoner switch then but said nothing of it to Schoonmaker and Krieger. The latter two, he said, according to his understanding, conferred with Joseph D. Donovan, an Erie automobile dealer, charged by the government with buying the "fixer" in the case, concerning the payment of fees for their services.

Rossiter denied authorship of the quotation, "we put it over," credited to him by Patrone at the hotel dinner. The Erie attorney admitted that he occupied the floor for a brief time at the banquet but said he merely recited a humorous poem.

Claim Innocence
Attorney Albert Thomas, chief of defense counsel, took the stand as a witness to refute portions of Patrone's testimony. The lawyer said he spoke with both Patrone and Beals at the Erie county jail. He testified that Patrone had admitted to him at the time that he had "often substituted for prisoners" and that in the present instance Rossiter and Donovan were entirely innocent of all connections in the case. Thomas further quoted Patrone as stating that his substitution was arranged by Wells and that he never knew or met Donovan.

William J. Carney and Thomas Dunn, defense lawyers also took the stand to corroborate Thomas' testimony.

The jury was removed while defense counsel presented the court with 16 points for consideration. Judge Nelson McVicar announced he would make a ruling later.

Patrone Attacked
Patrone was vigorously attacked as to his credibility as a witness by Attorney Joseph A. Richardson for the defense when the jury was removed.

"The man who perpetrated the fraud on the court in recovering the bail bond is not under indictment," Richardson declared in referring to Attorney Krieger, who previously had testified to receiving the bond posted by Wells after Patrone's sentence.

Marsh will make his closing arguments to the jury today as government counsel while Attorneys W. Pitt Gifford and Frank B. Quinn, of Erie, will close for the defense. Judge McVicar will then charge the jury before its retirement to consider a verdict.

Ex-Chancellor Of Germany Is Dead

Hermann Mueller, Twice Cabinet Leader Dies After Long Illness

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Mar. 21.—The German Socialist party was leaderless today with the death of former Chancellor Hermann Mueller, who passed away last night after a long illness.

He was operated on a week ago, rallying temporarily. Pneumonia that developed was complicated by heart weakness. He was 54 years old. His wife and two daughters survive.

Herr Mueller, the "man of iron nerve" headed the cabinet twice and as chancellor enjoyed the distinction of holding office longer than any other. During his stewardship, he placed the reparations question on a definite basis through the Young plan and released the Rhineland from foreign occupation.

In June, 1916 Dr. Mueller accepted the bitter task of signing the Versailles treaty. In the face of scorching criticism from his party he maintained that thereby he only saved the Fatherland from a far worse fate. At Versailles, he accepted the document handed to him by "Tiger" Clemenceau of France, and signed it without comment or reading of the text.

Obscure before the World War except in local political circles, he gained a seat in the Reichstag in 1918 and soon became an influential figure in party politics. Since 1919 he has served twice as chancellor his last term expiring a year ago. He was succeeded by Heinrich Brüning, the present chancellor.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Active Tot Must Wiggle—Dr. Myers

Train Self In Calmness And Don't Scold Nervous Child

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D., Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

A reader of the Boston Post writes of her girl of nine, noting that the child has poor eyes. "The eye doctor says it is a crime to send her to school because she is so nervous. Still the family doctor says there is so much thing as nerves. She does not sit still five minutes. In fact she makes my husband very nervous just to see her wiggle."

The mother has been ill following an accident, and the child has been cared for by a student nurse who is described as very patient. "She has had a very good teacher." The parents, nurse and teacher "have talked and talked to the child" but don't seem to get anywhere. She is in the third grade for the second time and will fail again.

"She goes two or three weeks without wetting herself. Then she takes spells and wets herself one or two times a day. It does mean so much washing and makes me feel so ashamed. She doesn't wet the bed. It seems she just won't go. . . . We don't spank her, but have tried making her go without something she wanted very bad, or sent her to bed or make her stay wet, or make her wash out her underclothes, but nothing seems to bother her."

Answer: In the first place, mother, your illness makes it hard for you to meet these problems as calmly as you might wish. And as for dad, well, men are often "nervous women" too. Do the best you can in keeping him calm and in leading him to be patient with your daughter. Why should you and dad get nervous when the child wiggles? Just because you don't think she should, and find yourself unable to make her calm by commanding. Now suppose you and dad were standing down beside the sea. The waves do not make you nervous. But they move as capriciously as does your little child. You know that the sea just acts that way and you know, too, that if you were heard to order the waves to cease you would be laughed at.

But when you are in the presence of your wriggling child you unawares assume that she shouldn't wiggle, and that she should cease when you order her to do so. No child can be still long at a time, and the more nervous the child the more impossible to be still.

Your problem and dad's is first to train yourself in calmness in her presence, to learn not even to look disturbed by her wriggling, to learn to speak very gently and to move about calmly. Don't scold her about her school work. Read to her, and help her with lessons only when you are calm and reasonable. Better take the eye specialist's advice and keep her out of school. Why rob this child already handicapped of her sight? She has a right to eyes that see. This difficulty alone is enough to cause all her trouble.

As for clothes' wetting, bless her heart, she needs no shaming, scolding, punishing. She needs love and sympathy and help. But at a clock, and during the day send her to the toilet at regular intervals short enough for her to keep dry. When she has an accident, punish yourself not her. Get it out of your head that you are the one to feel ashamed. Think of the suffering child. Help her to escape the torture you treat her as a sick child.

See that she comes in from play an hour for quiet before the dinner hour.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

First death in New Castle of which there is any authentic record was that of the little daughter of William McComb, which occurred some time in 1802-1803. Her remains were placed in a coffin made of oak boards fastened together with wooden pins, because of the fact that nails were unknown then.

The coffin was conveyed in John Wilson's oxcart to the first burying grounds in New Castle, located on the west side and in what is now a part of Greenwood cemetery. This original cemetery is the section of Greenwood cemetery which immediately adjoins the Crawford cemetery. The first coffin used in this instance was the handiwork of Jesse DuShane.

The first adult who died here was in all probability the same John Wilson, whose oxcart transported Mr. McComb's little daughter to the cemetery. It is said that Mr. Wilson was accidentally killed by being thrown from his cart on the day that the Reynolds and Townsend mill was raised, in the years 1803 or 1804.

Liquid Diet Contains Plenty Of Nourishment

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
An order for liquid nourishment often goes out to one kind of patient or another. It sounds thin and unwholesome—Liquid Nourishment. How can anyone extract any nourishment out of just liquids?

For those who are doomed to liquid nourishment there may be comfort in reflecting how great a variety there is in liquids.

"A glass of milk" is, of course, the first thing that comes to mind. But that does not exhaust the possibilities of the subject. There is lemonade, orange juice, grape juice, cocoa, egg nog, cream, buttermilk, tomato cream soup, chicken broth, beef juice, oyster stew (without the oysters), etc.

The amounts of calories in these drinks is surprising. Mrs. Rose gives the following list of drinks in amounts which make 100 calories apiece:

Food	Weight (Ounces)	Measure
Lemonade	1.10	1 2-5 cups
Beef juice	1.41	1 2-3 cups
Buttermilk	.99	1 1-8 cups
Cream, thick	(40% fat)	.09 1-3 tablespoons
Cream, thin	(18.5% fat)	.18 1-4 cup
Eggnog	.37	1-2 cup scant
Grape juice	.35	1-2 cup scant
Milk, whole	.51	5-8 cup
Orange juice	.82	1 cup
Cocoa, 1/2 milk	.55	3-5 cup
Cocoa, all milk	.38	2-5 cup
Cocoa, milk and whipped cream	.29	1-3 cup

It is easy to see that a diet of considerable variety and of good nourishing quality can be planned from liquid nourishment alone. By using enough cream and sugar in different mixtures it is easy to get up to 1,800 calories without making the convalescent feel stuffed.

How many households make junket any more? It is a delicious and nutritious food celebrated in song and story. Junketing parties were gay affairs, riding down to the dairies of old England for the day. It must once have been a familiar household dish, because the famous Miss Muffet was eating junket on the blood curdling occasion when she was frightened by a spider.

Questions from Readers
W. H. P., Missouri: "Where tuberculosis is in a home, several in family, what measures would you advise to prevent spread of disease?"

Answer: The danger is, according to modern ideas, entirely to the children of the household. Adults need not be in dread. The patient should be in a room or on a porch alone. The sputum should be expectorated into a sputum cup or paper napkin and burned daily. The patient's eating utensils—plates, saucers, glasses, etc.—should be kept absolutely apart from those of other members of the house and washed in a separate dishpan and boiled in a separate receptacle. Children should not be kissed or fondled by the patient. The patient's linen should be treated separately in a similar manner to the eating utensils.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper, Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—March 21, 1931, at 14 hours and seven minutes. Greenwich Civil time, our sun enters the part of the Zodiac called Aries and Spring on the earth will begin, according to present day rules which are a mixture of ancient astrology and present day astronomy. At the above given time, the sun crosses the plane of the earth's equator and day and night are of equal length all over the earth; therefore this phenomenon is called the vernal equinox; vernal meaning something that occurs during Spring and equinox meaning equal. There will be no question as to these relative positions of earth and sun arriving on scheduled time, but there will be considerable doubt that spring weather will arrive and continue on and after that date.

A moderately severe storm wave is expected to cross continent during week centering on 21: this is expected to be a warm storm center preceded by a warm wave reaching far into the north but to be followed by a northern cold wave and southern cool wave: during this storm period, precipitation is expected to be general and average moderate to heavy: as storm wave moves down east side of Rockies, moderate precipitation will be expected in northwest; as storm center turns northeast, after reaching southern states, moderate to heavy precipitation will be expected in eastern Great Central valleys and southwest. Storm wave of moderate force, expected to cross continent during week centering on 28, will be a warm storm center, causing a period of modern weather to be general, but average trend of temperatures will be expected to be downward from center of storm wave of 21 to first week of April: warm wave expected to center on 28 will be both preceded and followed by northern cold waves reaching a little farther south than usual, and by southern cool waves.

Forecasts of principal cropweather features expected during April will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases that occur during the near future are as follows: given to nearest hour of Greenwich Civil time, to change Greenwich Civil time to your local Standard time, one hour earlier for each fifteen degrees of longitude you are located west from Greenwich: First Quarter March 27 at 5 hours: Full Moon April 2 at 20 hours: Last Quarter 9 at 20 hours: New moon 18 at 1 hour: First Quarter 25 at 14 hours: Full Moon May 2 at 5 hours. The Greenwich Civil day starts at midnight and the hours are numbered straight thru from one to twenty-four.

For more than fifty years these bulletins have claimed that ocean tides are caused by a swelling of the waters by action of electro-magnetic force passing between earth and moon. Dr. Stetson's theory as to radio fading when moon is overhead being caused by electrified particles raised by the moon is just a further evidence of the value of these theories of more than fifty years ago.

WEEKLY

LETTER

Monday, March 23, 1931, The Castleton: 12:15 to 1:30 p. m.

Fellow Rotarian:

Need a Gold Brick? How's your stock of Green Goods? Or maybe you'd like to purchase at reduced a bit of Blue Sky?

Then come to the next meeting of New Castle Rotary Club at The Cast' ton. One James J. Curran, better known as "Jimmy the Trusty," ex-convict and purveyor or non-existent commodities of various natures—now reformed—will tell us how to do it.

In these depressed times knowledge of this type may be useful. And Jimmy Curran knows how. Jimmy spent about nine years up the river at Sing Sing making "Little Ones out of Big Ones." He had defrauded New York society women to the number of 300 out of various sums of money and was finally apprehended on the complaint of Mrs. Henry W. Taft, sister-in-law of former President Taft.

Jimmy had no friends or money. Hence no job as secretary to the warden for him. He worked. Then and there he decided behind those gray walls that it did not pay.

He has become a lecturer and has spoken before the most exclusive clubs all over the country. You are missing something really worth while if you do not hear him. Bring a guest.

Al Thayer and Doc Blackwood attended Rotary at Havana, Cuba. Fred Rents and Ed. Duff attended at Miami, Fla.

APPLES BLOSSOM EARLY
(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Mar. 21.—The Connecticut river valley will present its annual show of apple blossoms on May 6, and the upper part of the state will follow with a similar show a day or two later. Such is the prediction of E. M. Stoddard, state pomologist, who has been setting the date of the apple blossom season with great success for six years. An unusual warm spell upset his calculations last year so that apple blossom season came with the first day of May.

GIGANTIC CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM IN BIG CITIES GIVES WORK TO THOUSANDS

Charles F. Abbott, Says 1931 Will See Expenditure Of $7,000,000,000

Thousands Will Go Back To Work—Many Thousand Tons Of Steel Needed

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1931, By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—A mighty construction program is swinging into action throughout the United States, presaging a sharp revival of business in all lines, Charles F. Abbott, executive director of the American Institute of steel construction, declared in an exclusive interview today.

"This is going to be a great building year," Mr. Abbott asserted. He "conservatively" estimated that public and private construction during 1931 would exceed the amazing total of $7,000,000,000.

Considerable Building
Illustrating the situation, he pointed out the following examples:

1.—In New York a $15,000,000 steel contract—the largest single order for structural steel in history—has just been let for the $100,000,000 Rockefeller-Radio City. The order calls for the erection of 125,000 tons of steel. This job will provide work for 8,000 to 10,000 men.

2.—Chicago is about to award a contract for 50,000 tons of steel for a subway system and for 22,000 tons for a monomoth new postoffice.

3.—The Boston postoffice award, to be made shortly, will specify 20,000 tons of steel.

4.—The Cincinnati Union Station order, given recently, was for 24,000 tons.

5.—The New Jersey State Highway commission is about to let a 22,000 ton contract for bridge construction.

6.—The Nevada Hoover dam contract, a $48,000,000 project, has just been awarded.

7.—San Francisco's Golden Gate bridge project is getting under way; New Orleans is pushing $268,000,000 worth of construction in that region. Dallas $45,000,000 of building and other cities—from coast to coast—are following suit with projects of their own.

Radiated Optimism
Mr. Abbott radiated optimism as he discussed the situation with International News Service in his office. He could not understand how anybody could remain pessimistic on business in view of what is transpiring.

"The United States is pulling out of its business depression," said Mr. Abbott. "The public building section of the Hoover committee got started in its work about January 1. On March 15, in spite of the business depression and winter weather—that is the public building—amounted to $700,000,000.

"In the last three months approximately $6,000,000,000 worth of public and semi-public work had been recorded. This figure is increasing at the rate of a billion dollars a month. It is estimated that three billion dollars worth of the prospective municipal and utility work has not yet been recorded.

"About one-third of the projects already have passed through the preliminary stages and are awaiting completion of plans for the letting of the contracts."

Alien Immigration Into State Lower, Bureau Indicates

Immigration Into Pennsylvania Last December About 34 Per Cent Less Than November

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 21.—The flow of alien immigrants into Pennsylvania decreased slightly more than 36 per cent during last January as compared with December, according to figures compiled by the bureau of immigration and just made public by the department of labor.

During January, only 289 alien immigrants were granted entry into this country under the expressed intention of establishing permanent residence in Pennsylvania, whereas 452 such aliens entered the country in the previous month. The January total reveals a decrease of 163 immigrants, or slightly more than 36 per cent under December.

The departures from the United States of alien emigrants who had been living in Pennsylvania also decreased in January as compared with December. During January only 197 aliens whose last place of permanent residence had been Pennsylvania left the country, whereas 209 such aliens made their departure during the last month of 1930.

Alien immigrants admitted into this country under the expressed intention of making homes in the North Atlantic States numbered only 2,334 in January but totaled 3,935 in December. Immigration into Pennsylvania in December was about 34 per cent less than November immigration, according to the immigration bureau's figures.

Auditorium Work Discussed By Board

Special Meeting Takes Cognizance Of Conditions In School Auditorium

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—Secretary of the Board of Education R. K. Mattocks called a special meeting Thursday evening to especially discuss thoroughly the problem of the Lincoln auditorium. All of the members were present but J. W. Offutt and G. B. Hancher.

Before the difficulty the board is having with the emergency lighting system in the auditorium, it is also having trouble with the tile floor. The board early adjourned to the auditorium and made an investigation of the matter. It was finally decided not to accept the work and was referred to the architect. They requested that definite action be taken at once on the matter. The floor is not yet paid for and has been complete one year. Many tiles have had to be replaced because of cracking, it is asserted. The matter has also been referred to the bonding company and the board expects definite action within 10 days, either from the company or the contractor.

Program Given By French Class

Westminster College Students Perform At Ellwood Chapel Program

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—The Senior students of Lincoln High school had a very interesting time on Friday afternoon at the weekly chapel exercises in the auditorium. The program was in charge of Miss Mary Braham and her French classes. The feature of the day was the splendid entertainment provided by the French class of Westminster College. Twice before a program has been presented by this school and the local students look toward the time when they will visit Ellwood City again. The visitors had to do many encores.

Pete Maletta was in charge of the devotional exercises which was immediately followed by some popular songs by the Westminster girls' quartet composed of Elizabeth Rose, Ruth Martin, Beulah Thomas, Thelma Edwards and accompanied by Mary Jane Stunkard.

An interesting part of the program was 2 songs by Mlle. Monique Merat of Paris, who had made a complete hit with the students. She could speak no English and many people had the opportunity of receiving a formal French introduction.

This was preceded by a humorous French play in which action was a bigger factor than words, and the theme of the story was cleverly put across. The title of the play was "La Surprise d'Isidore." The cast is as follows: Adolph Picard, Jeffrey Soest, Isidore, Rogers, Free, Mme. Duval, Mary Eche, Susanna, Virginia Duff, Jeouise, Lois Davenport.

Dancing and music followed by three Westminster girls and three local girls, Emma Perry, Vera Deane and Alice Leymarie were the Ellwood girls and Virginia Duff, Lois Davenport and Mary Eche the visitors.

The visiting girls' quartet was called upon to deliver a few more numbers. Principal J. Ellis Bell gave a few remarks and dismissed the students.

36. Benedict Arnold—Arnold Reprimanded

STRIVING TO SUPPORT HIS EXTRAVAGANT WIFE IN THE STYLE TO WHICH SHE HAD BEEN ACCUSTOMED, AND TO MAINTAIN THE DIGNITY OF HIS RANK, ARNOLD LIVED BEYOND HIS MEANS AND WENT HEAVILY INTO DEBT.

IN 1779 THE PENNSYLVANIA COUNCIL ACCUSED ARNOLD OF APPROPRIATING PUBLIC PROPERTY TO HIS OWN USE. HE WAS FINALLY ACQUITTED OF THE CHARGE, BUT CONVICTED ON TWO MINOR COUNTS AND SENTENCED TO BE REPRIMANDED BY WASHINGTON

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ADMINISTERED THE REBUKE AS GENTLY AS POSSIBLE AND CONCLUDED WITH THE FOLLOWING WORDS, "EXHIBIT ANEW THOSE NOBLE QUALITIES WHICH HAVE PLACED YOU ON THE LIST OF OUR MOST VALUED COMMANDERS."

NOW WE COME TO THE SAD STORY OF ARNOLD'S TREASON. BITTERLY RESENTFUL OF THE SLIGHTS HE HAD RECEIVED, CHAGRINED AT NOT GAINING THE RECOGNITION HE COVETED, AND STUNG BY WHAT HE CONSIDERED THE INGRATITUDE OF HIS COUNTRYMEN, ARNOLD WAS READY TO BETRAY HIS COUNTRY.

SHOULD HIS DESPICABLE BUT INEFFECTIVE TREACHERY BLOT OUT THE MEMORY OF HIS FORMER GLORIOUS DEEDS AND CONSPICUOUS SERVICES TO THE NATION? WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Down in Dixie
Base Ball Notes

By Central Press
FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 21.—The pitching surprise of the champion Philadelphia Athletics this spring training trip is a fellow most everyone thought was through—last season. His name is Big Ed Rommel.

Big Ed looks fine this spring and may displace George Earnshaw as the A's No. 1 right-hander this season.

It has been several seasons since Rommel was mowing them down. He came to the A's from Newark in 1920 and was not a winner at first. He had a couple of years in 1920 and 1921, went great guns in 1922, slipped down in 1923 and 1924, came back strong in 1925 and then faded again.

However, this spring the knuckle ball hurler has taken courage with the new ball and has been showing his boss some fancy tossing.

When Connie Mack was being criticized for holding on to Ed, the tall tutor said nothing. But he had faith in Rommel, realized the pitching brains Big Ed owned, and, now, it seems that Connie was justified.

Rommel has at least one more fine season left in his system and this may be it.

In addition to Rommel's showing, the A's have been heartened by the work of Hank McDonald, a Pacific coast "find."

McDonald, though only 20, looks like the goods and has been working better than most of the rest of the staff. If Hank clicks and Rommel stages his come-back, Connie Mack will have all the supplementary mound service to Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and George Earnshaw that he will need.

Polish Falcons Defeat Reserves

St. Mary's Reserves Use
New Castle High Stars
But Are Beaten
24-23

The Polish Falcon basketball team gained a sweet victory, 24 to 23, over the St. Mary's Reserves in a game played last night at the St. Mary's auditorium. It required two extra periods to settle the matter of victors. The game was tied up at 18 all at the end of the regulation time and 22 all at the end of the first extra period. A fair sized crowd of spectators were kept thrilled throughout the six periods.

The Falcons jumped into the lead in the first quarter, having a 7 to 0 advantage. In the second period the Saints picked up and held the Falcons to one point while they made five, the first half ending 8 to 5 in favor of the Falcons.

Stars Enter Game
At the start of the second half the Reserves ran in several New Castle high stars, including Johnny and Nick Uram and L. Reiber, and the game became a nip and tuck affair. The fine work of J. Uram and Reiber kept the Saints in the ball game. The end of the third period the score was tied at 12-12.

The final quarter was fast and hard fought, with both teams gaining six points. Reiber and J. Uram tallied for the Saints in the early part of the extra period, but Cegielka came back with two buckets for the Falcons and the score was again tied at 22-22.

In the second extra period J. Uram gave his team the lead with a foul, and with but 45 seconds of the game remaining Andy Mehalec caged a beautiful shot from the center of the floor that gave the Falcons their victory. The entire Falcon team performed brilliantly, with Andy Mehalec the leading scorer, with three baskets and Volesko, Cegielka and M. Kolodjeski caging two.

Game Carded Monday
Monday night the Falcons will meet the Spanish All-Stars, composed of former New Castle high stars, including Wainio, Rowe, J. Uram, N. Uram, Reiber and others. The game is carded for the Falcon court. This game was originally set for tonight, but was postponed until Monday. All Falcon players are asked to take notice of the change in the game. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock. A big crowd is looked for, as there is a lot of rivalry between these two teams.

This is the Bessemer high school 1930-31 basketball team which annexed the Lawrence County Class B high school basketball title and then entered the first Lawrence County Class B high school floor tournament at New Wilmington recently and also came through in first place in that "titular fight."

Bessemer won the New Wilmington tournament by topping East Brook, New Wilmington, Mt. Jackson and in the finals took the measure of Union high school's Blue and White five.

Perhaps the success of this team is due to the coaching of J. H. Fredericks who since taking the coaching position at Bessemer has turned out some of the best Class B floor teams in the county.

Bessemer concluded its season in the tournament. The Cement City lads have made an enviable record this season having copped 15 games and losing 3. Bessemer scored 398 points in this number of contests.

An attractive game has been arranged for next Wednesday night in the gymnasium of the Senior high school. The strong Saint Mary's quintet, an independent club in this city which has made quite a name for itself will oppose the New Castle high school team, semi-finalist in the W. P. I. A. Westminster Track Squad In Indoor Workouts For Season

Largest Squad In Recent History Reports For Team

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 21.—Twenty of the 40 candidates for the Westminster College track team have been working out in the gymnasium on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons for the last two weeks in preparation for a strenuous season starting April 25 with a dual meet with Grove City. Following the spring recess, which starts next Friday, the squad will report in the gymnasium every afternoon in the week. At this time there will be 12 members of the basketball squad available as well as eight who have not been able to report as yet.

Captain Louis Pereseny, Turtle Creek, and Harry Brownlee, Lock Haven are outstanding track performers on the Titan squad as are Richard Fuller, South Milwaukee, Wis.; Marvin Clark, Knox; Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington; James Smalley, Elizabeth; Glenn Rehfus, Sandusky, O.; and Mauno Sijlander, Pittsburgh.

The Titans should be fairly strong in weight events, fair in the dashes.

fair in the middles distance runs, and a little stronger than usual in the distance races. While there is plenty of material on the squad, it is by no means a perfectly balanced combination. As a result, Westminster will probably have to take second place to the strong Geneva team in the Tri-State Conference race.

Wampum Quint Leads League

Wampum high school basketball team is leading its respective league with six wins and one loss while Plaingrove high is second with five victories and one defeat.

On Monday night Wampum plays Plaingrove. A victory for Plaingrove will mean first place while a triumph for Wampum will just about sew things up due to the fact that the season is coming to an end soon.

Harvey Through, Beaten By Jeby

Len Harvey Will Return To England—Made Poor Showing Friday Night

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Len Harvey, British middleweight champion, was defeated today as a headline attraction in this country.

Harvey, beaten twice previously here by Vince Dundee, was given his last chance to stick in the limelight at Madison Square Garden last night, and he failed. Ben Jeby of New York, a second-rater, won the decision over the pallid Briton in twelve rounds of dull milling and definitely relegated him to the ham-and-egg class.

Even with an immense advantage over his opponent in height and reach, John Bull's boy was unable to win. A typical British boxer to the core, he was strictly a counter-fighter and failed to follow up the smashing overhand rights which he landed occasionally. He allowed little Jeby to bore in and pile up points with his body punching.

Has Weak Stomach
Len can't take it in the breadbasket. Time and again, he folded up and held on when Jeby worked on him down below.

The decision of the referee and Judges in Jeby's favor was unanimous. A few observers gave Harvey a one-round edge, while others thought Jeby won handily. The writer gave Jeby the edge by a one-round margin.

Harvey himself did not complain about the decision, although he had squawked over the judges' decision in his two fights with Dundee. He was undecided about his future plans today. He may visit England and engage in one bout there, but plans to return here eventually.

Second Verdict Finds Pair Guilty

Marino And O'Neil Are Found Guilty On Charge Of Robbery

Verdicts in the case of the commonwealth against John Marino and George O'Neil were received in Court Room number one Friday afternoon, both verdicts being guilty. The men were found guilty of robbery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery and assault. In the case of Marino, the jury recommended mercy. Judge Hildebrand committed the men to jail until they could raise their bail to $2000 for Marino and $2500 for O'Neil.

In September term of court, 1930, the men were tried with Sue Pagley for the hold up of a man in a South Side restaurant. The three were found guilty, but new trials were secured by Marino and O'Neil. Before he could be sentenced, Pagley skipped the city and is said to have been in Warren, O. Friday morning he was apprehended and is back in the county jail awaiting sentence.

MEET THE MANAGER

BY JACK SORDS

He caught Walter Johnson when the speed king was at his best.

They still talk of Gabby's feat of catching a ball thrown from Washington's monument.

Gabby Street, known for two decades only as "the man who caught Walter Johnson," became famous in his own right last year by piloting the St. Louis Cardinals to their third pennant in his first year as manager.

This year, in his second season, Gabby wants to set a National league record by winning two pennants in his first two years.

Besides having been the regular catcher for the great Johnson during the first ball king's early years of greatness, Gabby also won renown as being the first man to catch a ball tossed off the top of the Washington monument.

These feats were very interesting but they did not stamp Gabby as being a great leader of a ball club. So when the St. Louis Cardinals ownership gave him his chance as pilot last year, Gabby wasn't given much of a chance by the "experts."

Lutherans-Baptists Will Battle Monday

Finnish Lutherans And First Baptists To Playoff Second Half Title

Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. floor the Finnish Lutherans and First Baptists "B" teams, will play their first game of a three game series to decide the championship of the second-half of the New Castle Church league. The game starts at 8:15 o'clock, according to Henry MacNicholas, physical director today who arranged the series.

At the end of the season the First Baptists and Lutherans finished even in the matter of victories. It was agreed on that they should play the best out of three for the title in the second-half. The Baptists won the first-half which means that they can win the league championship by taking the measure of the Lutherans in the impending series. Should the Lutherans win the series, they must turn around and meet the Baptists again for the championship of the both halves of the league or the league championship.

Quite a lot of interest is being taken in this series. The Lutherans have added Francis Wainio to their roster and look impressive.

Spying On Sports

by BILL RITT

The services of those astute gumshoeing agents, Messrs. Sherlock Holmes, Craig Kennedy and Philo Vance, it seems, are sorely needed down south. There is a great mystery to be solved. Call it "The Baseball Murder Case," "The Adventure of the Busted Horsehide" or what you will—it remains a very baffling business.

Agents for this department and many metropolitan gazettes are at work on the case but report no progress. The mystery deepens and the plot thickens daily.

The mystery my dear Watson, is this: What has become of that so-called "dealer" ball?

Not so long ago a horde of happy hurlers embarked, for the southland, singing psalms of praise for the new "dealer" ball, a thick-skinned, heavily-stitched sphere which, it was promised, would remove much of the buffoonery in baseball batting averages.

"Wait till we get our lunch hooks on that new egg," said the pitchers, one and all, "and you'll see some hot hurling. Us and the new ball are going to make life simply unbearable for all these pseudo home run hitters this season."

At the same time, nervous batsmen looking forward with fear to a season of trying to hit a baseball with all the resiliency of a bowling ball and the bounce of an over-ripe watermelon, also went south.

But it hasn't happened. Not yet, anyway.

Batters in training camps and exhibition games continue to murder the ball as of yore. The box scores continue to drip with the bloody details of myriad home runs and triples, five and six-run batting rallies and all the other fireworks formerly blamed on the erstwhile lively ball.

A shining example is a double-header played between Detroit and the San Francisco Pacific Coast league club. The minor leaguers nailed Tiger hurlers in a double-header for 18 runs and 26 hits.

The day before that cataclysm the Phillies and Robins tangled and the result was a total of 36 hits for both teams in nine innings. Brooklyn won by the old familiar score of 13 to 11.

Those who believe that the new "dealer" ball will curb hitting in the regular season have two alibis to offer:

1—The pitchers are not yet in shape.

2—The pitchers are taking it easy.

Maybe so. But there is no reason why pitchers as a group should be taking things slower this spring than they have done in the past. The hits in length and frequency are about on a par with what they have been during recent training periods. The new "dealer" ball ought to be making some sort of a difference in batting.

There is a growing suspicion that the new "dealer" ball isn't such a stranger after all. It wouldn't be surprising, after all, to discover the new sphere is just our old friend, the lively ball, with a mustache.

Harold Fitzgerald, Mrs. Jno. Keiland, Pearl Kennedy, and Laura Boggs. Visitors were Mrs. McConnell, Miss S. J. McElwain.

Among the New Castle callers on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Audley McClymonds and Harry Updegraph. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kennedy of Portersville, were the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pryor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reesman were Supper Rock callers Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClymonds of Butler visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClymonds recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Maratta and Mrs. H. L. McKee of Wilkinsburg, were Rose Point callers Sabbath afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Templeton of Beaver Falls, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul McCracken this week.

Seek To Identify Man Found Dead

(International News Service)
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Mar. 21.—An investigation into the death of an unidentified man, about 45 years old, whose body was found yesterday on a clay road near here, was under way today. No clue to the man's identity could be established, other than the fact that the toes of the man's left foot had recently been amputated.

The Galago, or flying lemur, a native of the Indian archipelago, is said to be the champion jumper of animals, clearing about 300 feet on an inclined plane.

Verdicts in the case of the commonwealth against John Marino and George O'Neil were received in Court Room number one Friday afternoon, both verdicts being guilty. The men were found guilty of robbery, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery and assault. In the case of Marino, the jury recommended mercy. Judge Hildebrand committed the men to jail until they could raise their bail to $2000 for Marino and $2500 for O'Neil.

In September term of court, 1930, the men were tried with Sue Pagley for the hold up of a man in a South Side restaurant. The three were found guilty, but new trials were secured by Marino and O'Neil. Before he could be sentenced, Pagley skipped the city and is said to have been in Warren, O. Friday morning he was apprehended and is back in the county jail awaiting sentence.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Week-End Stock Market Unsettled

By W. S. COUSINS, International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—The week-end stock market was unsettled by the same brand of profit taking and short selling which blocked the progress of the bull market near the close of Friday's session. A few of the pool favorites pushed ahead vigorously in the first hour, Auburn Auto jumping 5 points to 214½ and Stone and Webster 4 points to 54½. These upshots were offset by weakness in Westinghouse, Liquid Carbonic, the latter breaking to 44½, for a loss of 9 points from yesterday's high price.

The business reviews pointed out the continuance of the recovery in important lines, some of which have been stimulated by Easter and Spring garment buying. Steel and Automobiles also show well in the achievements of the week.

The Gas and Electric Light and Power stocks were under pressure and fell off about a point on the average. This was in line with expectations, in view of the sharp upward move that has taken place since Consolidated Gas at 107 showed a loss of 1½ for the day and 2½ points from the high of a 107-point unit. United dipped fractionally to 30 and Electric Power dropped off 1½ to 59.

General Electric and Radio Keith, two of the week's favorites, reached new high price ground for the year. The former at 48 and the latter at 24½. Westinghouse fell off 3½ points to 91½ and Air Production lost 3 points.

The Steel, Copper and Oil stocks were freely sold by the professionals as the market swung into the final period. Diamond match sold off nearly 2 points at 20½, and Columbia graphophone reached a new low on the move at 13¼, down 14. Trading picked up in all sections and the market was dull and irregular near the close.

Pascarella, a married man, He was arrested in Apple Alley where he had met the little girl several times, after becoming acquainted with her in a five and ten cent store.

Chicken Thieves

Frank Jones and Frank Dupe, colored, for receiving stolen chickens were sentenced to pay a fine of $25 each and one year to workhouse. When caught they had eight chickens in a bag. Seven of them were identified by J. H. Wallace as his property. The men claimed they had been out shooting craps and were returning home about 4 a. m. when they saw a man carrying a sack along the railroad. He dropped the sack and ran. They picked it up and found it contained chickens. Officers arrested them with the chickens, and checking up on their story, found that they had not been shooting craps at the place they alleged.

Beryl Bock, on a charge of fornication, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and costs.

Frank Aiello, aged 18, for transporting liquor, was sentenced to 18 months to the Allegheny County Workhouse. He claimed he had secured the liquor in Youngstown. In passing sentence, Judge Chambers said that the court proposed to break up the practice of Youngstown dealers, securing boys and cripples to deliver their liquor on the theory that the court would be lenient with them.

Had Bad Record.

Albert Minter, for robbing stores of Willard Wood, Clarence M. Singlaub and Dan Aureli, was given from 4 to 8 years in the Western Penitentiary on the first charge, from 1½ to 3 years on the third. The second sentence is to begin at the expiration of the first. The third sentence is to run concurrently. Minter was sent up in 1925 for robbery and served two years in the penitentiary. In 1917 he was sent to Huntingdon reform school for forgery.

C. J. McPenson, an Ohio man, for transporting liquor, was sentenced to 18 months to the county jail. On a drunken driving charge, he was given a similar sentence. The sentences to run concurrently. McPenson, when arrested by Constable McClenahan, near New Bedford, had two plants of liquor in his car.

Antonio Filigenzi, of Maitland street, for transportation of liquor, was sentenced to 6 months in the county jail. A plea was made for him on the ground of his age, 53, poor health, and first offense. He had a gallon of liquor in his car when arrested.

Edward Flynn, fornication and bastardy. Sentenced to pay $32 expenses. $2 per week for support of child for first six years and $3.50 weekly thereafter until child reaches age of 14 years. Bond in the sum of $500 to be given.

Joseph Stiella, for manufacturing liquor, was fined $300 and costs and given one year to workhouse. Petition for parole will be entertained at end of five months if fine and costs are paid. Stiella was arrested on a similar charge once before and was paroled. About 25 gallons of liquor and a large still were found at his place.

William Marshall, driving while intoxicated, $100 fine and costs and 45 days to county jail to date from Feb. 28th, the date of arrest.

Two Are Fined.

John Zajac, assault and battery on wife, fined $25 and costs. On surety of peace charge, pay costs.

John Bogac, assault and battery on wife, fined $50 and costs. A divorce case is pending, and testimony in the assault case showed both parties at fault.

"Gambling Games"

Gambling Flourishes In Nevada As Governor Signs Bill

(International News Service) RENO, Nev. Mar. 21.—After flourishing sub rosa for two decades or more, gambling in Nevada moved out into the open today and those who wished to have a little whirl at the cards, roulette, faro or any other games of chance could do so without seeking entrance to exclusive club or basement hide-aways.

Great plans were under way to convert Reno into a Monte Carlo with the signing of the Governor of the "wide open" gambling bill. Many of the schemes were manifestly fantastic, but there is no doubt that there will be plenty of equipment and facilities in the state to "back the tiger."

Workmen were busily engaged in remodeling casinos in order to have more room for play, and the establishments which have been operating here reported the first day of "open shop" attracted a bumper crop of patrons.

planes were tampered with in such a manner that the wings would collapse under normal stress.

Under cover agents who worked beside Kassay in constructing the Akron charge that he attempted to weaken the dirigible's structural work by freezing rivets in place with ice to pass inspection tests.

William J. McDermott, Assistant United States District Attorney, said he did not know how extensive the airplane sabotage plot was, but explained that he was convinced that the San Diego crash was related to the alleged attempt to destroy the Akron.

Violation of the Ohio statute on criminal syndicalism was the charge lodged against Kassay when he was arrested. The suspect pleaded not guilty.

AKRON, O., Mar. 21.—Hearing for Paul F. Kassay, 37, on charges of criminal syndicalism in connection with the alleged plot to destroy the new navy dirigible, the Akron, was continued until next Thursday by Municipal Judge Frank Harvey today on the request of Assistant County Prosecutor George Hargrave.

Kassay's bond was set at $20,000. Mrs. Yetta Land, attorney for the accused man, stated that the bond was being raised and that Kassay probably would be released late today.

Sam Levine, 201 Park avenue complained to the police last night that his Whippet tan colored coach, Pennsylvania license 1808R, had been stolen from in front of the Shapiro store on Moravia street.

According to Mr. Levine, he had his car parked in front of the store while he was inside. He noticed a rooster pull up back of his machine and start pushing it away.

He tried to catch up with the two machines, but after following them for some distance, lost track of them. It had not been reported as found late today.
